ANANDA MIDA is a musical collective born within the independent label Go Down Records' family, leaded by Matteo Scolaro and Max Ear, drummer of historical band OJM.

CATHODNATIUS is the second chapter of the psychedelic undertaking to investigate the soul of the tricerebral beings of our planet, examining in particular all the negative forces and the relative subtle vibrations lying outside and inside everything. Recorded at the Teatro delle Voci Studios in Treviso, it sees the collaboration of singer Conny Ochs, a valid explorer of the mythological cosmos created by the band.

The pilot turns his head and checks on the controls, lights turns through green and red, ignition, there he goes.
